Governor,

Hopefully the House warmed up; please don't hesitate to call as you shouldn't have to deal with such a cold house.

Just a quick re-cap on day to day things:

Willow wants spaghetti tomorrow. Do you want her to plan the menu for the week like she used to with a copy emailed to you and/or left in the kitchen.

Diane has been packing a lunch; and making eggs, toast, bacon, etc... for Piper (if she hasn't already had her oatmeal). Let me know if you want this handled differently-if not we'll continue as is.

I want the staff and myself to be helpful, but most importantly we want to do things how you want them. :)

Just an option if you and Willow are busy and you don't want flack for having security or me picking Piper up. If you were comfortable with it- Kaitlin could walk over and pick Piper up at the bus stop and walk her home or take her to the Creating Place to do crafts. I thought her bus came at 4:02 sharp-I felt horrible that we missed her that day-so 3:55 is the p.u. time for now on.

I haven't found a piano teacher from a church yet, but still looking. I think there's a teacher downtown, but not someone who I know. I'll see if they're available in case I can't find anyone else.

4-7 days for the mirror and new bedding to arrive.

I'm ready to get the bed installed, let me know if you have any questions.

Thanks,

Erika

Joe was fine with the language. Thanks too for your encouragement. I appreciate it.

I took the time to re-read portions of AGIA and had my memory refreshed about DNR being required to promulgate regs containing the fiscal regime before the first open season. The producers should communicate with DNR about those regs just like everyone else in the public--through the public regulatory process--not try to negotiate separate independent deals with the state. So, yes, we'll hear from them and respond to them in that context--that's the law :)

Joe,

Would you please review this section of my speech for tomorrow at the Fairbanks Chamber and tell me if there are any "Oh my gosh, don't say that" parts to it. I recognize that John Ringstad is going to introduce me, Rick Solie is the Chair of the Chamber--so I'm not exactly walking into an audience that will welcome this message. I'm also covering elections and education in the same speech so this is just an excerpt from a current draft. (I don't really want to circulate it to the whole team at this point since I can't deal with email edits from 6-8 people plus my staff--I'm just counting on you as the barometer here for message alignment with the team.)

He's outright lying if he's telling people you said that. Yes- his city's hurting with high crime rates, and it must be his nature to want someone to blame for the problems- you must be a convenient target today for him. We'll be ready for this if anything comes up about it tomorrow, or anytime in the future. He's got amazing and misdirected boldness on this issue - he's blaming the wrong guy (and gal) on this one. Thanks Talis! Keep up the great work!

Dear governor palin. Yes I can talk about Exxon tomorrow. I just got off the phone after an argument with begich. I called him. He had apparently told a bp group today that apparently a 60 percent recidivism rate is acceptable to the ag because I said so at his meeting with you mr and others last year. I called to tell him I did not appreciate it. He then went on a rant. Says our 350000 d a budget increase is a measure of our administrations lack of concern about crime. The criminal justice system is collapsing. The anchorage d a office is collapsing etc. He refused to acknowledge he had implied anything other than that in front of you I had said there was no problem with 60 percent recidivism. Maybe I can cool down and say something about this tomorrow as well. It is clear from his comments that he blames this administration for bad crime stats in anchorage. I thought he had gotten past this theme but clearly he is putting a lot of focus on it probably anticipating it may be an issue in his senate race. Talis.

Subject: Nikolski Fuel Crisis Update - January 28th, 2008

Dear All:

The Community of Nikolski has an estimated 500 gallons of #1 heating oil left. They are completely out of #2 heating oil. This is enough #1 to run the power plant for another three or four days. Currently several of the buildings within the village, including the community building, lodge, and tribal office are completely out of fuel.

The Delta Western barge is scheduled to head to the Pribilofs in a couple days and be there for a couple of weeks. Nikolski may be scheduled after that effort.

For this reason, another emergency fuel delivery and a long-term emergency fuel plan is desperately needed. The only method currently available is by air charter. This is not only the most expensive method but also provides very limited amounts of fuel.

The Coast Guard will not allow any further by-sea fuel deliveries, unless the State of Alaska declares an emergency. APIA and the Nikolski IRA request guidance from the State of Alaska regarding how the State of Alaska defines "an emergency" and how an emergency declaration may be applied in this instance.

Fuel delivered by air charter costs the community and individuals on fixed incomes $10.50 to 10.87 per gallon. Fuel delivered by sea costs considerably less and provides the opportunity for greater volume. An equally serious problem is the lack of funding to pay for the continued emergency deliveries which will be needed. Nikolski has submitted their paperwork for the State of Alaska's Community Energy Assistance Program.

The Nikolski IRA is currently holding a Community Meeting to discuss the situation and assess what other resources could be applied to pay for emergency fuel delivery.

A new update will follow upon new information. Please let me know if you need any more information.

MESSAGE:

Sarah,

You stated to my colleague, at an Anchorage fundraiser, that you had concerns about the Gaming Commission Initiative (05GAM2), slated to be on the ballot this August. There was a mistake by the Attorney General's office about the language and intent of the Initiative. That's probly where your confusion came from.

By going through Jay Pullins at the Lt. Governor's office, that confusion has been eliminated and the "Alaskans For Gaming Reform" are dropping our suit against former Lt. Governor Lehman.

I have talked to you about this subject in our meetings during your campaign. I would like to meet with you again to clarify any questions you may now have about the intent of the Initiative.

I would be available anytime here in Anchorage and will be in Juneau the week of February 18th. Our CHARR legislative summit is during that week. I can however come down sooner if that would be more convenient.

Thank you in advance for your considreration.

Hi Sarah,

I want to personally thank you for meeting with John and me during our recent trip to Juneau. Our problem of waterfront access and the construction of a new tank farm seem a lot closer now with your help and the help of your assistances. The entire community of Gustavus is thankful for your efforts and I believe we will find a route forward through this dilemma.

Thanks so much for your continuing help.

Pls don't rock any boat with a new requirement of Security to drive their personal vehicles if that hampers their ability to do their job tho- I'm not suggesting that. I'm just going on Fred's suggestion that the state look into this bc, for instance, the van he usually drove must be parked somewhere - he drives a different vehicle now - and he says it's an easy process to get the x-class

I"m staying out of how you guys do this- but pls don't pull any rugs out from anyone who would be shocked to hear a suggestion of not having readily available state vehicles. Pls discuss all this first with Fred in case I'm missing anything in the translation. I'm cc-ing him so he knows this should be an open discussion to get the best ideas and proposals out there for consideration on how the state could save money on transportation.

Governor and Mike,

The statewide fleet manager just sent this note— we're checking it out and will try to get this vehicle available to us. I can also ask Fred to make the state x-class vehicle he drives available to visiting staff in lieu of rental cars. He could use his personal vehicle to commute to work when the state car is not available to him.

I spoke with the statewide fleet manager and she advised me that x-class vehicles usually become identified and available in the summer months when agencies are returning fleet vehicles to DOT. She is going to watch the inventory this summer to try to find small SUVs and front wheel sedans that are in good enough condition to ship to Juneau for us. DOT turns x-class vehicles over to requesting agencies "for life"… and charge approximately $50/month per vehicle for their deferred maintenance/replacement budget. We would assume all upkeep, maintenance and repairs on the vehicles. She also thought that we could arrange for the vehicles to be stored in the Glacier Highway DOT yard when not being used by our staff.

She knows we want the vehicles and will continue to notify us when possibilities come up.

Shawn & Linda - there is a 1998 Ford Taurus (front wheel drive) at the DOT yard, 74K miles. Ken said it's buried in the snow, but if you want to look at it he said it might work for you. It would need a new battery and a detail I'm sure. It used to belong to H&SS. If interested you can call Ken McBride at 465-1792.

Subject: Phone message for Gov re: Ron Paul's Presidential Campaign (contact: Christian Piccolo)

Importance: High

Janice / Kris - Last Friday afternoon, I received a phone call from Christian Piccolo who would love to speak to the Governor if she would like to hear about Ron Paul's presidential campaign. Since Governor Palin had minimum support for the Republican Party during her campaigning, he believes that she would be a great supporter for Ron Paul as he is facing similar issues running for president. He stated that 5 minutes is all the time he would need and he would inform the Governor of "who is Ron Paul."

Following are some of the goals/visions of Ron Paul that Christian stated off hand:

He wants to…

- bring ALL troops home (globally)
- reduce the size of the Federal Government
- eliminate the Department of Education
- eliminate homeland security
- eliminate illegal immigration
- give back to American's ½ of what they make (re: income taxes)

I believe that Christian is part of Ron Paul's campaign committee and he said that he will gladly speak with anyone at any time and any day. His cell phone number is (608) 728-2341 and he has a website for more information which is www.ronpaulchat.net <www.ronpaulchat.net> <http://www.ronpaulchat.net/ <http://www.ronpaulchat.net/> > .

I personally don't know if Governor Palin would choose to support Ron Paul, but she may be willing to listen to what he has to say. Christian would be greatly appreciated if anyone would call - just to receive 5 more minutes of information. Do either of you have any suggestions on how to handle this? Would she call him?

Let me know if I can do anything else with this. Thanks! Hannah

State Chamber provides video coverage of Alaska Business Roundtable Luncheons

The Alaska Business Roundtable is a luncheon series presented cooperatively by the Juneau Chamber of Commerce and the Alaska State Chamber of Commerce. During the Legislative Session, the weekly cooperative luncheons host presentations of statewide interest. Bradley Fluetsch, CFA and owner of True North Video Production, LLC graciously provides video coverage each week of the luncheon presentations. We are posting some of those presentations that are of interest to our membership on our web site at www.alaskachamber.com

ConocoPhillips ANS Natural Gas Pipeline presentation

ConocoPhillips shares a common goal with the State of Alaska to develop a project that will bring Alaska North Slope (ANS) natural gas to market. They have consistently worked toward this objective. The video is from their presentation to the Alaska Business Roundtable luncheon on January 10 in Juneau. Presenters are Wendy King, Manager, ANS Gas Development and Tamar DiFranco Senior Commercial Analyst of ConocoPhillips. Click here to view the video.

Alaska State Chamber, Juneau Chamber and World Trade Center of Alaska present the 2008 Statewide Economic Forecast

World Trade Center Alaska and Wells Fargo presented the latest information and analysis about Alaska's economy in 2008 and developments in markets like China and India that will impact Alaska. Alaska's Governor, The Honorable Sarah Palin, who opened the 5th Annual Statewide Economic Forecast event in Juneau, offered the opening remarks.

Pat Burden, the President of Northern Economics, provided the Economic Review and 2008 Statewide Forecast. Burden reported on the state's major industries, their contribution to Alaska's economy and how they will perform in 2008. Burden's analysis is much sought after and his company is the state's largest economic consulting firm.

Gary Isham Senior Vice President and Northwest regional manager for Wells Fargo HSBC Trade Bank gave an update on Pacific Rim trade opportunities. The Trade Bank, an equity joint venture between Wells Fargo and the HSBC Group, is the only nationally chartered bank in the United States dedicated exclusively to international trade. The Northwest offices support businesses in Alaska, Idaho, Montana, Oregon, Washington and Wyoming. He is currently the Chairperson for the Washington Council on International Trade, and is on the e! xecutive board for the World Trade Center Seattle.

Wells Fargo Announces 2008 National Award Programs for Women and Asian Business Owners

WHAT: As part of its Diverse Business Services programs, Wells Fargo - with the US Pan Asian American Chamber of Commerce (USPAACC) and the National Association of Women Business Owners (NAWBO) - announce a call for applications for two national annual awards: The USPAACC/Wells Fargo Asian Business Leadership Award and the NAWBO/Wells Fargo Trailblazer Award.

WHO: Each award honors three business owners based on their companies' business performance, innovation, growth, and personal service to the community. Winners receive $5,000 cash grant and national recognition. The 2008 Asian Business Leadership Award will be presented at USPAACC's 23rd Annual CelebrAsian Conference, May 27-29 in Washington, DC. The 2008 Trailblazer Award will be presented at NAWBO's annual Women's Business Conference held in Arizona June 12-14.

WHEN/WHERE: Deadline for the NAWBO/Wells Fargo Trailblazer Award: Feb. 1, 2008
Deadline for the USPAACC/Wells Fargo Asian Business Leadership Award: Feb. 28, 2008.

WHY: Women and diverse business owners are the fastest growing small business segments, outpacing the growth rate of the overall market. These national award programs showcase the talent and success of women and diverse business owners nationwide and demonstrate Wells Fargo's commitment to support the continued success of Asian, African American, Latino and women business owners.

I agree with you about the mixed messages coming from the delegation. On the one hand, they have encouraged us to reduce the number of earmarks and to provide matching funds. On the other hand, they seem to be saying that we no longer have confidence in their power and credibility when we do this.

Regarding your second point, we have been working with Randy Ruaro to make sure that the Congressional delegation understands the reasons for DOTPF's proposed earmark policy.

Concerning your third point, many of the local communities will soon make their annual pilgrimage to DC, and we will have an additional opportunity to talk with them about earmark policy. In my opinion, they really aren't adversely affected by what we're doing in DC.

Thanks John - the discussion over earmarks is going down several tracks here -

1. State legislators want WRITTEN guidelines from the governor on what is acceptable under "state earmarks", the criteria the governor will use to evaluate projects, etc.I have been asked on the record - twice now - to produce such a document

2. Mayors from all over the state were here with AML and fussing about the DOTPF's revised earmark policy that was sent to the Congressional Delegation in draft form regarding those community requests that are not sufficient to fund the project and what the state's role is in that; and

3. The State of Alaska's federal funding requests and our desire to link state and federal interests and priorities in narrowing the number of requests we submit to the delegation.

And, I think there have been some confusing messages from the delegation about what the state should be doing versus what communities and organizations should continue to do in terms of seeking federal funds directly from them.

So, I expect there will be resistance to virtually anything we are trying to do - KJR

I don't think that there will be a moratorium on earmarks, but the attached statements, which are still evolving, provide additional impetus to the Governor's federal earmark policy.

In particular, the President's demand to reduce earmarks, the need for greater transparency, and more intense interests in matching funds all rebut the comments of Karl Marrs and others who appear wedded to past practices.

Yes, sorry for not getting back to you sooner. I have a meeting today to discuss phase 2 of the plumbing project and will discuss hooking the washer up and where the outlet is needed. From there I can schedule the t-bed and washer at the same time ASAP. The basement outlet is already used for the dryer so that doesn't help-it's better long term to add the extra breakers to the 3rd floor as it's at maximum capacity. This was confirmed by the Facilities Manager and the electrician-so 3rd floor has most benefits to the House. We're getting there-sorry for not keeping you in the loop on the status.

Thanks,

Subject: Susitna Hydroelectric Project

Speaker Harris
Susitna Hydroelectric Project

Sorry to disappoint you, but you are making Susitna far more difficult than it is. You do not have to set a side any funds, $3 billion as mention in newspaper. It is bondable and will stand on its own. Some Federal Loan Guarantees, the hard nose commercial banker type not the gasline give a way type, may help lower the interest rate. It is like buying commercial loan insurance.

A letter to any of the members of the congressional delegation asking, Sen. Stevens would be my preference but you can ask any of them, do not ask the congressional delegation to jointly ask, it would just delay things one is all it takes, the Corps to review the finances of Susitna. Just that simple. If any member of the delegation asks the Corps, the Corps is obligated to carry out the review WITHOUT funding.

Now if you feel guilty about getting something for nothing and want to put in some funds here is the deal I had some years back. $100,000 for a financial review, just notes. If it was a "go" then another $150,000 to publish the review to FERC standards. Now I think $150,000 for the review and $200,000 to publish would be more than generous.

First, Ask the congressional delegation to ask the Corps. Second then funding if you are so moved. I would provide for funding because the Corps maybe personnel short and some funds would be helpful to secure outside assistance to move the process along faster. There is some urgency to get as far through FERC as possible while the Bush Administration is in office. It is just speed not corner cutting.

For 'goodness sake' do not ask for private review that is what screwed up things last time. Nobody in the world knows more about hydroelectric dams than the Corps. They maybe a little slower but they are sure footed, creditable and bankable.

Had the Susitna project been construct when proposed and refinanced when interest rate were low the railbelt and as far over Valdez would now be enjoying power @ $0.03/ KW
I see no reason why Susitna could not be used to provide power to TAPS
It was stated that under a Jimmy Carter Administration it would take 33 months from Susitna resubmission to FERC until a FERC issued a license to construct. Under a Bush administration, and expedited, I think it would take six months--- less than year.
Remember Susitna with its $158 million EIS, which set an international standard for EIS's, has been through FERC once and preliminary design was underway when shelved. At the time Susitna was shelved and in the State's hands , the Corps object to Susitna being shelving, which very unusual for them to speak out when Susitna was no longer in the Corps hands, because the Corps was so incensed; they had started the work on Susitna and hated too see a good project be dropped because the Costs had been kited by 25% and for political purposes having nothing to do with dams. The Hammond's Greenies did the same thing to Bradley Lake but because Bradley Lake was small the legislature funded Bradley Lake anyway. Bradley Lake came in 25% under budget .

As for SEAN COCKERHAM he has a lot fiction mixed with fact to make a story. Remember the Anchorage News work hard to kill Susitna and never really knew any thing about Susitna nor electrical generation or even their own electric bills.

Rep Mike Doogan was probably working for the News at the time and probably took lot swings at Susitna as only he can. Doogan does not want Susitna revisited because it will come out just how wrong they were. Just like they were on Bradley Lake.

If you have questions do not hesitate to ask, Jerry susitnahydronow@yahoo.com

Importance: High

Janice / Kris - Last Friday afternoon, I received a phone call from Christian Piccolo who would love to speak to the Governor if she would like to hear about Ron Paul's presidential campaign. Since Governor Palin had minimum support for the Republican Party during her campaigning, he believes that she would be a great supporter for Ron Paul as he is facing similar issues running for president. He stated that 5 minutes is all the time he would need and he would inform the Governor of "who is Ron Paul."

Following are some of the goals/visions of Ron Paul that Christian stated off hand:

He wants to...

- bring ALL troops home (globally)
- reduce the size of the Federal Government
- eliminate the Department of Education
- eliminate homeland security
- eliminate illegal immigration
- give back to American's ½ of what they make (re: income taxes)

I believe that Christian is part of Ron Paul's campaign committee and he said that he will gladly speak with anyone at any time and any day. His cell phone number is (608) 728-2341 and he has a website for more information which is www.ronpaulchat.net <http://www.ronpaulchat.net/> .

I personally don't know if Governor Palin would choose to support Ron Paul, but she may be willing to listen to what he has to say. Christian would be greatly appreciated if anyone would call - just to receive 5 more minutes of information. Do either of you have any suggestions on how to handle this? Would she call him?

Let me know if I can do anything else with this. Thanks! Hannah

You asked when the Board of Fish meeting occurs as they will take up proposals on 50 hp regs. BOF meets from February 1-12 with the Kenai River proposals scheduled on the draft agenda currently on Feb. 4 and 7. They're looking for direction from us so they can follow suit is what I'm being told.

Perhaps we can take 15 minutes with the governor ahead of the Habitat meeting to discuss the direction she wants to head. I'll forward this to Janice, requesting she check on the governor's availability.

Governor and Mike,

The statewide fleet manager just sent this note— we're checking it out and will try to get this vehicle available to us. I can also ask Fred to make the state x-class vehicle he drives available to visiting staff in lieu of rental cars. He could use his personal vehicle to commute to work when the state car is not available to him.

I spoke with the statewide fleet manager and she advised me that x-class vehicles usually become identified and available in the summer months when agencies are returning fleet vehicles to DOT. She is going to watch the inventory this summer to try to find small SUVs and front wheel sedans that are in good enough condition to ship to Juneau for us. DOT turns x-class vehicles over to requesting agencies "for life"... and charge approximately $50/month per vehicle for their deferred maintenance/replacement budget. We would assume all upkeep, maintenance and repairs on the vehicles. She also thought that we could arrange for the vehicles to be stored in the Glacier Highway DOT yard when not being used by our staff.

She knows we want the vehicles and will continue to notify us when possibilities come up.

Subject: Options for Bed

Hello Governor,

The two options for the tanning bed are:

1. Install the bed in the basement next to the dryer and share the 220 outlet with the dryer.
The bed would fit against the wall where the table is currently located; plugging and unplugging the bed and dryer would be necessary as an extension cord cannot be used with the 220 outlet. (The Housekeeping table could be moved to the Kitchen Prep room.)

2. 220 outlet in Cedar Closet (Additional breaker box to increase capacity to 3rd floor).
Benefits to the House:
The third floor breaker is at capacity; it would be beneficial to increase capacity for future use verses the basement where it isn't an issue. This option would allow for additional circuit loads on the 3rd floor to install washer/dryer during phase 2 of the plumbing project. The state would pay for the replacement of the breaker box.

Anchor Electric: Cedar Room $3,252.35

It would take 1-2 days to schedule the electrician and a few days work to have it up and running.

Please advise on how you would like for me to proceed.

Thanks,
Erika

Governor,

After reviewing the options on where to build the new Crime Lab, Anchorage was chosen over Kenai and The Mat-Su Valley for the following reasons:

- APD is by far the largest user at 72% and even if such usage rate continued, a move to Kenai would drive up their expense in shipping evidence and slow their responsiveness to the citizens they serve.
- The staff currently working at the Crime Lab would have to uproot themselves and their families and that may cause some to re-think employment with DPS; a consideration as the crime Lab is currently understaffed.
- Many Troopers transport their prisoners into Anchorage and hand carry evidence to the Crime Lab now, to move the Lab out of Anchorage would further tie up that traveling Trooper to other communities, like Palmer or Kenai, before he or she can return to their assigned post.
- Finally, the cost for the land in Anchorage is the same price as it would be in Kenai, no cost. (As per conversation with MOA Heritage Land Bank Manager with Deputy Commissioner Glass.)

Any questions, please contact me anytime.

Governor:
At the AIDEA/AEA board meeting today (1/25) the board took the following action.
1. Elected John Kelsey, chairman of AIDEA/AEA
2. Appointed Sara Fisher-Goad acting Executive Director for AIDEA/AEA
3. Amended AIDEA by-laws to authorize AEA to employ an Executive Director and enter into a contract with AIDEA to reimburse paroll costs for the AEA Executive Director
4. Authorized Executive Director search for AEA and AIDEA through an outside search recruiter.
5. Amended AEA by-laws and clarified the authority of the Executive Director.

EXECUTIVE SESSION
Had a briefing on Healy Clean Coal Project legal status from Charlie Cole. The board urged Mr. Cole increase his efforts to advance the arbitration process and report any progress back to the board.
We are expecting a formal proposal for the Northwest Arctic Borough to acquire the Red Dog road and dock at the next meeting.

MESSAGE:

Dearest Sara. John and I are seeing you pretty face on the cover of some magazines and as you told us all at the inaugration "you all clean up well." You are looking great and doing such a job as govenor. Tonight your Mom,Linda M., Mimi Fell,and myself are going to a benefit Scrabble Tournment in Anchorage. I thought you would get a kick out of our team name "Hot-Hot Babies". Got to run, hello to Todd and kids.

Keep up the great job.

Subject: Options for Bed

Hello Governor,

The two options for the tanning bed are:

1. Install the bed in the basement next to the dryer and share the 220 outlet with the dryer.
The bed would fit against the wall where the table is currently located; plugging and unplugging the bed and dryer would be necessary as an extension cord cannot be used with the 220 outlet. (The Housekeeping table could be moved to the Kitchen Prep room.)

2. 220 outlet in Cedar Closet (Additional breaker box to increase capacity to 3rd floor).
Benefits to the House:
The third floor breaker is at capacity; it would be beneficial to increase capacity for future use verses the basement where it isn't an issue. This option would allow for additional circuit loads on the 3rd floor to install washer/dryer during phase 2 of the plumbing project. The state would pay for the replacement of the breaker box.

Anchor Electric: Cedar Room $3,252.35

It would take 1-2 days to schedule the electrician and a few days work to have it up and running.

Please advise on how you would like for me to proceed.

Thanks,
Erika
